Our Ingredients

Did you know we share 50% of our DNA with mushrooms?

Reishi

Reishi mushrooms have become a popular ingredient in health products. At Moosh, we exclusively rely on the finest Reishi Mushrooms obtained from our trusted UK botanicals supply chain to guarantee our customers receive the best quality product.

Our meticulous natural extraction process is employed to extract bioactive compounds, ensuring our product remains uncontaminated by any harmful substances.

Cordyceps

Cordyceps is a functional mushroom found in the high mountain regions of China. Renowned for its medicinal attributes, cordyceps has been a cornerstone of traditional Chinese medicine for millennia, admired for its capacity to invigorate the immune system and provide a natural source of energy.

Moosh gummies present an innovative and natural means to integrate cordyceps into your dietary regimen. Whether you follow a vegetarian or vegan lifestyle, you can relish our revitalising and nourishing gummies with assurance.

Our Ingredients

Did you know that the largest living organism on Earth is a fungus?

Chaga

The Chaga mushroom grows primarily on birch trees in cold climates, such as northern Europe, Siberia, and parts of North America. It has a distinctive appearance, resembling a dark, woody mass with an irregular shape.

It is rich in bioactive compounds, including antioxidants, polysaccharides, and polyphenols. Our Immunity gummies feature a powerful combination of Chaga mushroom, Vitamin C, and Ginger.

Lions Mane

Lion's Mane Mushroom, also known as the "pom-pom mushroom" is a unique and fascinating fungi with a distinctive appearance and a growing reputation for its potential health benefits.

Our Lions Mane mushroom gummies can be used for improving cognitive functions, boosting immune systems and promoting nerve regeneration with those who suffer from neurological conditions.

How To Take
